International Mental Health Day Report

Date: October 9, 2023

The Department of Psychology at CoE, GC Sanjauli, Shimla-6, took a significant step towards promoting mental health awareness by organizing a classroom activity on International Mental Health Day, celebrated on October 9, 2023. The event aimed to educate and raise awareness among students about the critical issue of mental health, particularly focusing on the youth. This detailed report provides an overview of the event, its objectives, and the activities conducted by the first-year BA students.

Objective:

The primary objective of the program was to spread awareness about the importance of mental health among the student community. Mental health is a vital aspect of overall well-being, especially for the youth who often face unique challenges and stressors. The event aimed to educate students on recognizing the significance of mental health and addressing the various aspects related to it.

Activities and Highlights:

The event was organized with precision, and the activities carried out by the enthusiastic BA First-year students were commendable. The following activities and highlights provide insight into the program's success:

1. PowerPoint Presentations: Several BA First-year students delivered informative and well-researched PowerPoint presentations on various topics related to mental health among youth. These presentations covered subjects such as stress management, anxiety, depression, self-care, and the importance of seeking professional help when needed. The presentations were informative and engaging, providing valuable insights into the complexities of mental health.

2. Poster Displays: In addition to the presentations, some students exhibited their creativity by designing informative posters. These posters visually conveyed essential information about mental health, highlighting key messages and strategies for maintaining good mental well-being. The colorful and thoughtfully designed posters served as excellent visual aids for the audience.

3. Interactive Discussions: Following the presentations and poster displays, interactive discussions were held, allowing students to ask questions, share personal experiences, and seek guidance from their peers and faculty members. These discussions encouraged a sense of community and support among the students.

Conclusion:

The classroom activity organized by the Department of Psychology on International Mental Health Day was a resounding success. It achieved its primary goal of raising awareness among students about the importance of mental health, particularly focusing on the youth. The engaging presentations, informative posters, interactive discussions, and the presence of a guest speaker created a holistic learning experience for all participants.

This event not only educated the students but also emphasized the significance of open conversations and support networks when it comes to mental health. It is hoped that the knowledge and insights gained during this program will help students prioritize their mental well-being and encourage them to seek help when necessary.

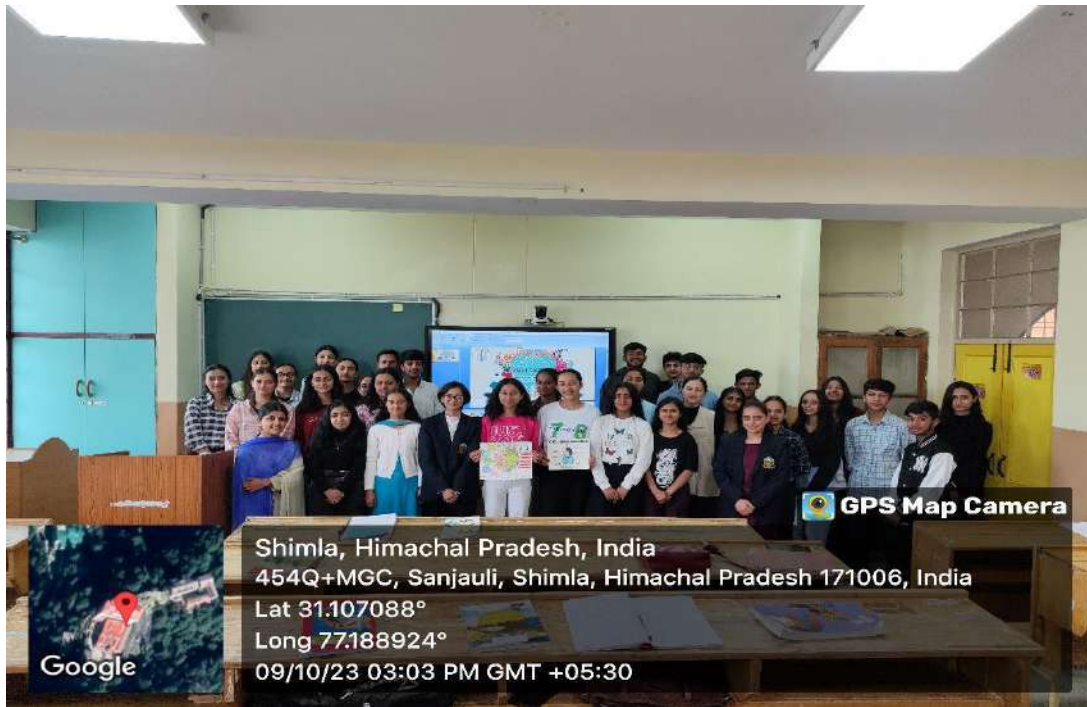

The Department of Psychology at CoE, GC Sanjauli, Shimla-6, remains committed to promoting mental health awareness and looks forward to organizing more such activities in the future.

आत्मविश्वास और समय प्रबंधन से लक्ष्य हासिल करना आसान

स्टाफ रिपोर्टर—शिमला

शहर के प्रसिद्ध संजौली कालेज में शनिवार को कालेज की पूर्व छात्रा सपना ने राजनीतिक विज्ञान विभाग के विद्यार्थियों के साथ अपने विचार साझा किए।

उन्होंने कहा कि आत्मविश्वास और समय प्रबंधन के माध्यम से विद्यार्थी कोई भी लक्ष्य हासिल कर सकते हैं। किसी भी लक्ष्य को हासिल करने के लिए समय प्रबंधन जरूरी है। जैसे-जैसे समय प्रबंधन का नियम मजबूत होता जाएगा, विद्यार्थियों में आत्मविश्वास भी बढ़ता जाएगा। उन्होंने छात्रों को बताया कि वे किस प्रकार परीक्षा की उचित रणनीति बना सकते हैं, जिसके माध्यम से कोई भी परीक्षा

उत्तीर्ण की जा सकती है। सपना ने छात्रों को नेट-जेआरएफ, सेट परीक्षाओं की जानकारी दी और बताया कि राजनीति विज्ञान विषय में छात्रों के पास बहुत से रास्ते हैं। उन्हें सिविल सर्विस, सहायक प्रोफेसर और अन्य प्रतियोगी

परीक्षाओं के लिए राजनीतिक विज्ञान विषय की समझ जरूरी है। बता दें कि सपना ने पंजाब विश्वविद्यालय से एमए और एमफिल की डिग्री हासिल की हैं। वर्तमान में वह पंजाब विश्वविद्यालय से ही राजनीतिक

विज्ञान में पीएचडी कर रही हैं। राजनीतिक विज्ञान विभाग में सहायक प्रोफेसर अभिषेक ठाकुर छात्रों को प्रोत्साहन करने के लिए विभाग में कई गतिविधियां करवाते रहते हैं। अभिषेक ठाकुर ने कहा कि वह आने वाले समय ने

छात्रों के लिए ऐसी कई गतिविधियों का आयोजन करेंगे, जिससे उनके छात्रों को बहुत कुछ सीखने को मिलेगा। सपना ने सहायक प्रोफेसर अभिषेक ठाकुर का उन्हें कालेज में बुलाने के लिए धन्यवाद किया।

The Alumni session was covered by Divya Himachal newspaper!
Raising awareness among people is an important objective of Our knowledgeable session.

Introduction

The Free Thinkers Club of the Department of Political Science hosted a hot debate on the topic of Political Freebies on 6 October 2023 at 1:20 PM featuring judges Dr. Harsh Vardhan Singh Khimta (Assoc. Prof.) and Mr. Sandesh Kumar (Asst. Prof.).

The event became a platform for students to passionately argue in favor of or against political freebies.

The report provides a brief account of the debate, highlight of the key arguments and the judges' perspectives, offering an overview of the dynamic engagement between the participants.

Executive Summary

The debate on Political Freebies began with an introduction to the rules of the debate by the moderator Mr. Tarun Sharma who skillfully steered the course of the debate in a very professional manner.

The affirmative team convincingly argued in the favor of political freebies quoting their potential to address socio-economic disparities and to ensure giving various facilities to the society. They highlighted that the policy of giving freebies are an essential part of inclusive governance.

The arguments of the opposing side against political freebies were equally compelling. The team emphasized concerns about the fiscal responsibility, misuse of resources and the impact on individual growth. While supporting welfare schemes for health management and infrastructure the team condoned the efforts of political parties to sway voters by offering them freebies.

The judges evaluated the debate assessing the arguments and presentation skills. While both sides presented strong arguments, the team against the motion was declared the winner.

Debate Structure●●●

RULES

- Structured format : Presentation of motions followed by open debate.
- Time allotted: 3 minutes per speaker.
- Buzzer : First bell at 2 min 30seconds and second bell at 3 minutes to conclude the statement.
- Open debate : The debate was opened up in direction of the moderator.

OPENING STATEMENT

- Opening statements were presented by all members of both the teams.
- The statements were to be concluded within 3 minutes by the participants.

OPEN DEBATE

- The debate was opened up to the participants after 2 minutes of concluding the opening statements.
- The participants questioned and counter questioned each other with sound logic.

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOUR OF FREEBIES

- DPSP
- Rich : Poor ratio
- Compensatory measures
- PDS System

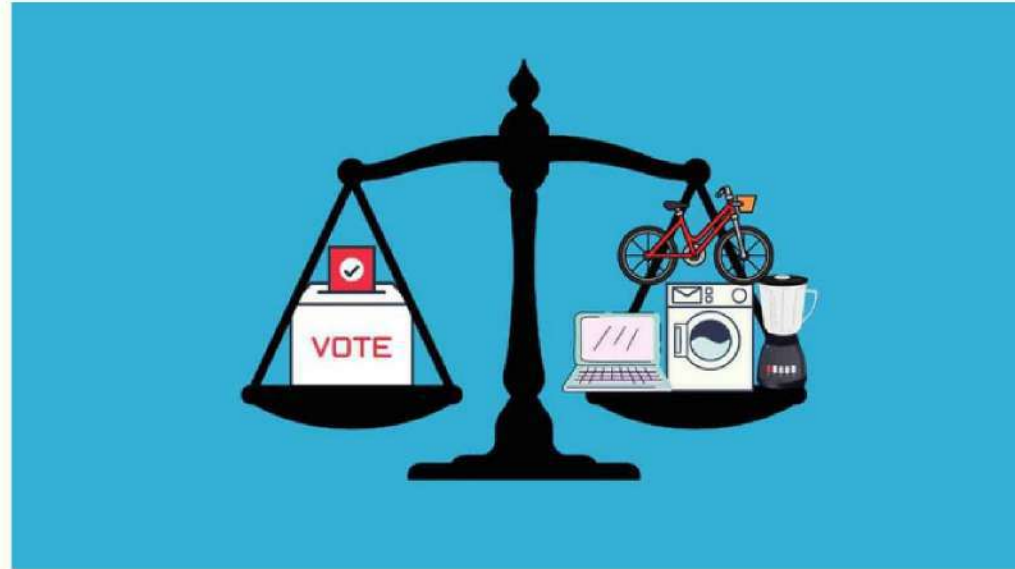

- Free commodity
- Bihar cycles
- Delhi water and electricity
- Finland and Norway literacy

- Basic needs
- Sport for education
- Expectations
- Help in building work force

- H.P. electricity
- Free drinking water in rural houses
- Ujjwala Yojna

- 3% of Indian GDP on health while global avg. 6%
- Freebies are basic necessity
- Focus to be tax

ARGUMENTS AGAINST FREEBIES

FREE IS NOT FAIR

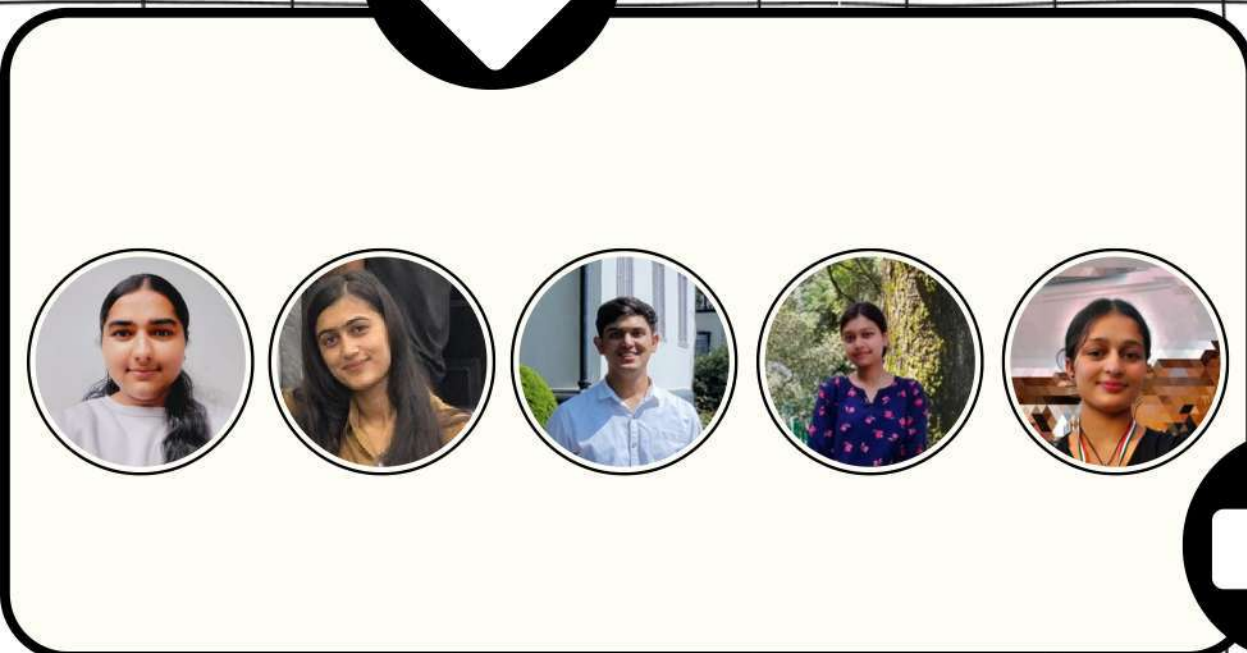

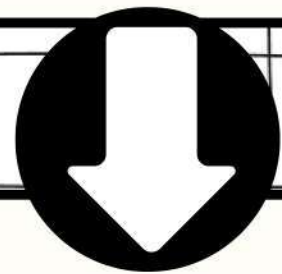

➤ SC says distribution of freebies influences all people. 'It shakes the root of free and fair elections to a large degree'

➤ Petition relates to sop war in TN. Against DMK's promise of free colour TVs in 2006, AIADMK in 2011 announced free mixers, laptops & gold mangalsutras

➤ Political parties argue they have a right to project their policies & economic and political priorities. Say voters decide on basis of promises in manifesto

➤ Court says assemblies, Parliament should decide on legitimacy of freebies

- Difference b/w necessity & luxury
- Inflation and fiscal consequences
- Culture of entitlement
- Similar to bribery

- Increased govt. dependency
- Need for reducing incentives
- Fueling of political corruption

- Focus should be welfare state
- Economic strain
- Dependency
- A good freebie an oxymoron

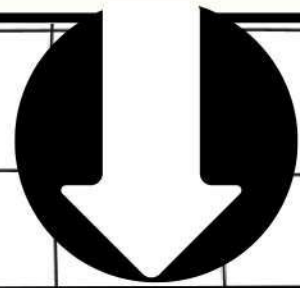

- Resource exploitation
- Macroeconomic instability
- Promotion of credit culture

- Resource misallocation
- Quality compromise
- Against free and fair elections

Judges' Evaluation

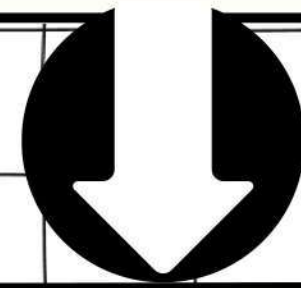

The respected judges Dr. Harsh Vardhan Singh Khimta (Assoc. Prof. English) and Mr. Sandesh Kumar (Asst. Prof. Journalism & Mass Comm.) were responsible for the evaluation of the participants' arguments ensuring a fair assessment.

The judges praised the participants for their quick wittedness and debating prowess and shared their views on the topic levying great emphasis on both sides of the coin.

WINNING TEAM

The team against the motion was declared the winner. The judges informed the participants that it was a close challenge and both the sides impressed the judges to a great extent informing that the winning side managed to secure the victory in a commendably close contest.

BEST DEBATER

Miss Swati Sharma from the team against the motion was named the best debater. The judges praised her quick wittedness and responsive stance to the questioning from the affirmative team.

••• Audience Response

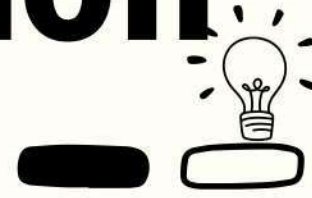

The audience, though not actively participating in the debate displayed an attentive behavior.

The responses from the audience were non-verbal, including nodding, occasional applause and a stream of laughter on quick witted remarks of the participants.

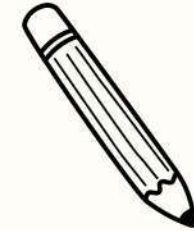

The audience's active presence greatly added to the overall ambience of the debate.

Conclusion

The debate on political freebies was a thought-provoking and an engaging event. The proceedings of the event were carried by the moderator and the two judges provided expert evaluation.

The favor side explained the importance of freebies as ways to provide for and look after the society, while the against side questioned the fiscal responsibility and stressed on the long term effects.

Ultimately the debate encouraged critical thinking and demonstrated the importance of open dialogue to build intellect..

INTRODUCTION

The Free Thinkers Club of the Department of Political Science organized its most ambitious event till date in Decoding G20.

This event garnered the presence of the esteemed principal of the college and many diligent professors .

The primary purpose of this event was to provide a platform for our members to present their views and opinions on the recent G20 summit held in our backyard in a unique fashion.

KEY POINTS DISCUSSED

Unveiling the Evolution: G5 to G20 and now G21

The participants ventured on a journey through time, tracing the forum's evolution from its origins as the G5 to the creation of the present formidable G21.

Cultural Reverie: Art and Indian Heritage Exhibition

Engaging themselves in the art and cultural exhibition, the participants ferried into a vibrant shade of Indian heritage in the G20 summit. They spoke eloquently of India's rich cultural legacy, providing a sensory link to the nation's artistic prowess.

Himachal Pradesh: The Regional Nexus

The discussions took a turn towards Himachal Pradesh, where the participants recognized the profound influence of our home state. The members were pleased with how Himachal Pradesh's natural splendor and cultural diversity left a memorable mark on the global stage.

Pinnacle Outcomes: Corridor, Inclusion, and the Delhi Declaration

The club's attention shifted to the critical outcomes of the G20 summit.

The establishment of the India Middle East Europe corridor was hailed as a bold step towards strengthening regional economic cooperation.

The inclusion of the African Union was celebrated as a demonstration of India's growing stance in the global south. The crowning achievement, however, was the adoption of the Delhi Declaration, signifying a collective resolve to tackle pressing global challenges.

Balancing Act: Positives and Criticisms

As the discussions reached their zenith, the participants engaged in a candid appraisal of the G20 summit's strengths and areas for improvement.

While applauding the actions towards inclusivity and cooperation, they also acknowledged concerns about the pace of decision-making and the need for more actionable outcomes.

INTERACTIVE EXCHANGE: QUESTION-ANSWER SESSION

The question-answer session was a new addition which was marked by wholehearted participation from the audience. It was a momentous occasion where the audience's engagement resonated with all the participants and club members.

CONCLUSION

The Free Thinkers Club's decoding of the G20 summit in India was an illuminating endeavor.

Through art, regional appreciation, and momentous declarations, the participants gained profound insights into the intricate workings of global governance.

Acknowledging both strengths and weaknesses, they departed with a renewed sense of purpose, fully aware of their generation's pivotal role in shaping the future of international cooperation.
