

REPORT ON ARMY ATTACHMENT CAMP

Venue: McLeod Ganj, Dharamshala

Date: 23rd September to 4th October

UO Kartik Tanwar of COE GC Sanjauli attended the Army Attachment Camp, organized by the prestigious 100 Field Artillery Regiment, where a total of 94 cadets from various Companies and Battalions showcased their Calibre and gained in depth knowledge about army and its functioning.

Under the guidance and supervision of CO Col. Avinash Balasaheb Moggal and Training Officer Major Bhavya cadet underwent extensive training and gained invaluable insights on various essential defence strategies like Army tactics, Camouflage techniques, Weapon handling, Tent pitching, Map reading & navigation, CPR and First Aid, Teamwork & survival and ways to enhance their leadership skills.

The camp was divided into one company consisting of three platoons, each led by a platoon commander with a strength of 30 cadets per platoon. Each platoon further consisted of three sections with 10 cadets per section, each under a section commander. The camp followed a chain of command which helped in maintaining discipline and order:

- Section Senior
- Platoon Commander
- COY Commander
- Training NCO
- Training JCO
- Training OC

UO Kartik Tanwar served as the COY CDR/CAMP SENIOR, demonstrating exemplary leadership throughout the camp. UO Kartik Tanwar also showcased his excellence by securing first place in the Quiz and Extempore Competitions. Cadets were also taken on a thrilling trek to Bhagsunag Temple and Waterfall, enjoying the natural beauty and serenity of the region.

The camp achieved a perfect balance between discipline, adventure, and learning, leaving a lasting impression on all participants. UO Kartik Tanwar's outstanding performance and leadership have set a high standard for future cadets.
